CONTRAST

January 7, 2018

Tim Tripp

Perhaps you, like me, have had the experience of being in a cave and turning the lights off. When you do that, you experience a kind of darkness like no other. It is frightening. It is disorienting. It is paralyzing. You can't sense movement. Your world becomes one dimensional. What a contrast when the lights are turned back on! The world becomes multi-dimensional again. When I was in the cave, someone turned on a light and tried to cover it with their hand but the light just made their hand glow and it was plainly visible. Light overcomes darkness.

In the gospel of Matthew, in the passage often referred to as the 'Sermon on the Mount,' the writer recalls Jesus' words as he told the crowd of his followers that they were the "light of the world," (Matthew 5:14). He also reminded them that they were to "let your lights shine before men, that they might see your good deeds and glorify your Father in heaven," (Matthew 5:16). When it comes to light and darkness, contrast is the point. When someone follows Jesus as a disciple of his, their lives should, even must, provide a contrast to those in the world. Allow me say that less delicately. If your life is not lived in sharp contrast to the world, I don't know who or what you are following, but it is not Jesus. You cannot be light and live in darkness. You cannot claim to be light and then treat your light like a cheap flashlight turning it on and off as it serves you.

Ultimately, God is the source of all light. Though Jesus said we, as his followers, are light, he does not mean we are the source of the light. We merely reflect his light. The only way to turn the light off is to turn back into the darkness and away from the source of the light. Jesus said that the purpose of the light is not to be hidden but to boldly step into the darkness that the light may shine for all to see.

Contrast can be difficult. When you are light you dispel darkness wherever you go. Some people like darkness. Some people would rather live in a one-dimensional world filled with their own passions and desires and do just what they want. When light threatens their comfortable self-centered darkness allowing them to see the spiritual, altruistic dimension, it scares them. They are confronted with what to do about these other dimensions. They must either explore them or ignore them. Those who choose to explore are the ones we can reach to and try to disciple. The ones who choose to ignore and turn back toward darkness will not be comfortable in the presence of light and some will be downright hostile. Sometimes it might seem easier to switch off the light and fade back into the darkness. That is not what Jesus wants. He wants his light shining continually and without interruption to have its impact on the world. There are those living in darkness whom he will call to the light. We must continue to shine for them.

Contrast is important. If you are a Christian, you are the light of the world, so...be light!

DIOS LE BENDIGA (GOD BLESS YOU)

BY ARIS ORTIZ

Our first Sunday of 2018!

What a blessing to start the year on this first Sunday and have a bilingual service to God.

Singing and praising God in two languages is great. Praying to our Father in Heaven in English and Spanish is awesome. Participating of the Lord Supper together and to have that moment of communion with the Holy Spirit is a beautiful experience and to listen the message in both English and Spanish is powerful!

This shows that the Word of God has power to change hearts and make people not matter from where, or what language they speak, the Word will unite souls from everywhere. Most importantly, the Word of God will reach, and people will be saved by hearing from it, believing and obeying the Gospel of Christ.

And that my brothers and sisters, is our mission. To call, to teach, to preach, to reach another soul for the Lord, and more will be added to the church and more languages will proclaim that Jesus is the Lord!

Here at Westside, is happening!!

God continue blessing this congregation.

THANK YOU - 2017 CHRISTMAS BASKETS

The Bible tells us to remember the poor and needy. Thank you West Side for your generosity in helping us to help the poor and needy in our community. A total of $3,537.74 was collected by our members to help those in need. Because of you, we were able to help 32 families have a better Christmas. This provided them with food. We also delivered to 19 people in nursing homes and shut-ins. They were gifted a poinsettia, candy and a card.

We would also like to thank Doug Bailey and his daughter, Libby, for helping us to deliver these.

"Blessed is he who is generous to the poor and needy..." - Proverbs 22:9

"They asked us to remember the poor, the very thing I was eager to do." - Galatians 2:10

Thank you West Side,
Joe Russell and Frank Foster
